

DIRECTORY ENTRY (PEOPLE)

02/21/2018

Geraldine Rodriguez

Architect

Geraldine Rodriguez is an architect and former member of the Observatorio Urbano, a research center on marginal settlements in the Universidad de La Salle, Bogotá. She also has a strong interest in photography, and a selection of it photographic work can be found here. She has worked as an architect in Colombia and Spain and is based in Mexico, where she is pursuing her MA in architecture at the Unam. Her research interests focus on everyday practices of urban and rural resistance.

Other publications on Mobile Lives Forum

A tale of two cities? Everyday mobilities and individual opportunities in Bogotá, Colombia

Giovanni Vecchio, Geraldine Rodriguez

¹ <https://arqgrzcs.wixsite.com/phportfolio/informal>

² <http://en.forumviesmobiles.org/southern-diaries/2018/02/21/tale-two-cities-everyday-mobilities-and-individual-opportunities-bogota-colombia-12366>

³ <http://en.forumviesmobiles.org/southern-diaries/2018/02/21/tale-two-cities-everyday-mobilities-and-individual-opportunities-bogota-colombia-12366>